Overview

Launched in March 2003, the Academic Jewish Studies in Europe Grant Programme aims to develop rigorous, systematic research and education in academic Jewish studies throughout Europe, enhancing what is already available and sustaining the productive expansion of developed activities. The programme is designed to develop the skills and broaden the horizons of graduate students and early career scholars.

Institutions can apply for funds to develop innovative teaching networks designed to enable students to benefit from the expertise of specialists throughout Europe. These networks will facilitate student mobility, enabling students to gain course credits toward their Jewish Studies degrees through participation in exchanges and summer schools beyond their home institution, as well as via distance learning. Applications should not be for one-off workshops or seminars, but rather for establishing lasting opportunities for students and connecting existing degree programmes.

Participating institutions should already have the necessary local infrastructure in place and the grant should go towards creating the connections between them. In order to benefit the field, these networks should be flexible—new partners should be able to easily join if they bring something beneficial to the table. Applicants to this category can apply for up to £25,000 per annum and funding can run for up to three years.

Eligibility Criteria

We welcome applications from any organisation or institution based in Europe (EU and non-EU states alike), where activities are deemed charitable under UK charity law, these include public universities, research centres, and memory institutions. We are not currently accepting applications from Ukraine and Russia. The Foundation regrets that it cannot accept applications from individuals in this category. If you are an early career scholar (e.g. you received your doctoral degree less than 7 years ago), you may be eligible to apply for a Post-Doctoral Fellowship. Please refer to the relevant programme page on our website.

All applications must detail substantive partnerships with at least two, and preferably more, higher education or memory institutions. One of these partnering institutions may be based outside Europe.

Please do not submit a project that was rejected in the past before consulting with the Grants Programmes Manager.

Please note that this grant programme does not discriminate (either positively or negatively) on the basis of religious affiliation.

Eligible Topics

Jewish Studies is the study of both Judaism and the Jews. It encompasses the study of many different aspects of Jewish civilization, including but not limited to architecture, languages, literature, liturgy and ritual, philosophy and theology, as well as the history and sociology of the Jewish people. Jewish Studies draws on methodologies from a variety of disciplines, but some of the key skills Jewish Studies scholars rely on include facility with Jewish languages, textual analysis and hermeneutics, archival research, palaeography, and, when relevant, social science methodologies such as ethnographic research and linguistic analysis.

All topics within the broad field of Jewish Studies are considered eligible for the Foundation's Jewish Studies grants. The Foundation particularly welcomes applications from those engaged in the study of contemporary Jewish life in Europe from a social science perspective and those whose proposals involve digital humanities research techniques.

In principle, projects only tangentially related to Jewish Studies are unlikely to be successful, nor will projects devoted to an individual or individuals who happen to be Jewish, but whose historical importance is not significantly contingent on that biographical fact. Secondary school education, informal education and documentary films will not be funded within the context of the Academic Jewish Studies grant programme.

Eligible costs

In general, the costs of coordination, student travel and accommodation grants, visiting lecturer costs, and the costs associated with putting reliable distance learning technology into place can be funded within the context of this scheme. Other costs may also be covered but it is advised that you contact Foundation Staff regarding other, major costs for which you wish to apply. Please note, institutional overheads will not be funded. Institutional overheads include the costs of maintaining, heating and insuring the building in which your department is housed, as well as the taxes your University pays for that building.

If you are uncertain about the eligibility of your proposed project, please contact the Rothschild Foundation Hanadiv Europe with any specific queries.

- ✓ Official proof of organisation's charitable / non-profit status: If your organisation is a public body, then please submit a copy of the portion of your statutes that states your government-funded status.
- ✓ Certification from the tax authorities (if applicable): In some countries, a certification from a government office is required for non-profit institutions. Please supply this if such is the case in your country.
- ✓ A budget table and budget explanation for the proposed project: Whereas the application form requires a summary budget, this supporting documentation provides you with the opportunity to explain, item by item, how you arrived at the global figure in your application form. Please use the template provided in your application. A sample of a completed budget table can be downloaded via the application form.
- ✓ CVs of key staff people working on the project (maximum 5 pages for each staff member): Only the first 5 pages of any CVs totalling more than the 5-page limit will be forwarded to the Academic Advisory Committee for assessment. If you wish to submit more than one CV, please combine all the CVs together into a single document in order to be able to upload them successfully using your online applicant page.
- ✓ Signed memorandum of understanding between network partners: this letter should indicate the intent of the network partners to participate in the proposed project. It should be signed by the relevant department heads, institute directors or faculty chairs. Please note that this does not need to be a formal, legal and binding contract.
- ✓ The most recent available audited accounts or financial statements stamped by the financial authority in your country: Please consult your university or departmental finance department in order to obtain these. Accounts are required even from public bodies and from organisations that have applied to the Rothschild Foundation Hanadiv Europe previously.

- ✓ The operating budget of your organisation for the current fiscal year: Please consult your university or departmental finance department in order to obtain these. An operating budget is required even from public bodies and from organisations that have applied to the Rothschild Foundation Hanadiv Europe previously.
- ✓ Report on previous grants (if applicable): If your institution has previously held a grant from the Rothschild Foundation Hanadiv Europe and has not yet submitted a final report detailing the funded activities, then you must now submit such a report with your current application. Please contact the staff at Rothschild Foundation Hanadiv Europe if you have any further questions on this at report@rothschildfoundation.eu
- ✓ If you have a current grant with the Foundation and have not submitted a progress report in the last 6 months, please upload a brief grant update (maximum 3 pages) about your project. There is no specific form for this update.

- ✓ English translation(s) for documents not originally written in English: Any documents not written in English, which are not accompanied by an English translation, will not be considered in the evaluation of the application. Combine your original documentation with the English translation and upload as one document under the corresponding attachment title. This does not need to be an official translation, but it must be clear and accurate.
