

European Jewish Heritage Grant Programme

Collections Management

The Foundation provides support to institutions which hold material related to Jewish history or Jewish cultural heritage to ensure their collections are conserved, organised, protected, and made accessible to diverse audiences.

This may involve preliminary research such as a scoping survey, inventorying and cataloguing, conservation and preservation, digitisation, creating digital resources, and public programmes.

The type of materials eligible for this grant may include objects, manuscripts, documents, all forms of printed and visual material, audio, film and video recordings.

We welcome applications from a variety of organisations including museums, universities, public, private and institutional libraries and archives, heritage organisations and cultural institutions as well as other professional organisations that have acquired or generated a collection.

Please note grants are not available for the acquisition of objects, the production of facsimile or to commission artworks.

Deadline for submission: This is a two-stage application process.

First stage submissions due by Tuesday, 13 June 2023, (GMT 17:00)

Second stage submissions due by Tuesday, 12 September 2023, (GMT 17:00)

Funding is available for the following:

- Preliminary research – undertake initial steps to help you plan for a larger project. This may include an assessment of the collection (e.g., scoping survey) to give you a better understanding of the material contained in your collection, an overview of its current condition and recommendations for next steps. This preliminary research can be used to prepare a subsequent application for further funding.
- Conservation and preservation – ensure specific items are treated and repaired so they are not at risk of further decay and collections receive the long-term protection they need.

- Cataloguing – creating an accurate inventory and / or catalogue of a collection. This may include detailed analysis, publication of finding aids and creation of online catalogues.
- Specialist costs – it is important that these projects are undertaken by professionals with relevant skills, qualifications and experience. If this doesn't already exist within your organisation you will need to hire professional staff to carry out the work. Typical specialist costs may include additional staff hours (for non-full-time staff), external cataloguers, conservators, photographers, digitisation specialists etc.
- Purchase of storage materials – these will ensure collections are properly stored and may include acid-free protective folders, specialist envelopes, boxes and other containers, cabinets and shelving or other specialist storage furniture. We will also consider applications for temperature and humidity controls, fire protection and security systems.
- Purchase of specialist equipment – specialist equipment may include cameras, scanners, conservation materials, digitisation equipment, laptops and other computer hardware. There may also be a need to purchase software specifically for the project, e.g., cataloguing software or a Collection Management System.
- Creating digital resources – we support the creation of digital and online resources relating to Jewish material heritage. Previous examples include the creation of a new website to host an online catalogue, virtual exhibitions of digitised material and websites using primary sources to tell local stories.
- Public engagement – support for public programmes that promote the collection and engage diverse audiences. We are especially interested in activities aimed at young people and local communities. Support may include speakers' fees and travel expenses.

Level and duration of support

The average level of funding in this category is £30,000 – £60,000 per year for up to 3 years.

We will fund up to 70% of the project budget and at least 30% of the cost of the project will need to come from other funding sources. We favour proposals that include co-funding from other organisations as well as clear evidence of financial commitments from your own institution (e.g., institutional reserves, money raised from ticket sales etc.) Of this 30%, up to half can be attributed to in-kind contributions or allocated costs (see below).

Applications requesting more than 70% of the total project budget will be rejected.

In-kind Contributions and Allocated Costs

In-kind contributions and allocated costs can make up a maximum of 15% of the total cost of your project. Please ensure you identify these on your Project Budget Form under Project Income and use the Budget Explanation section to provide further details, e.g., breakdown of salaries, volunteer time etc.

In-kind contributions include any materials, goods, services or facilities that you would otherwise have to pay for but that are being provided free of charge or at a reduced rate. This may include:

- volunteer time (i.e., how much would the time donated to the organisation cost if it had to be paid at an hourly rate in your country)
- new equipment that is donated to be used by the project
- dedicated space for the project that would otherwise have to be rented

Allocated costs include expenditure which must be paid for at some point by your organisation and do not qualify as in-kind contributions. This may include:

- services of an employee currently employed by your organisation for time spent on the project (e.g., staff costs, project management or supervision)
- additional time spent on the project by existing employees, beyond their current contracted hours, e.g., a part-time staff member who takes on additional responsibilities for the duration of the project
- supplies and material bought by your institutions which will be used on the project
- additional dedicated space for the project that will need to be rented

Eligible costs

We support applications for project-related costs so please ensure your project budget fits our criteria.

Before beginning your application, you may find it useful to visit our What we don't fund page, where you'll also find our statement on 'Jewish Community Libraries'.

We support a wide variety of projects at different stages of development, including stand-alone initiatives and new aspects of an existing project. However, we do not fund retroactively. This means we will not consider a request for funding for an activity that has already happened or is scheduled to happen while the application for funding is being considered.

Eligibility Criteria

We welcome applications from any organisation based in Europe, EU and non-EU states alike, except for Ukraine, Russia and Belarus.

The organisation's activities must be deemed charitable under UK charity law, and we will require proof of its charitable status. This includes organisations which are either not-for-profit or publicly funded e.g., state or private libraries, archives, museums, research institutes, universities, cultural centres or non-profit organisations. For more information, please consult the UK's Charity Commission website and its list of Charitable Purposes.

If you are in the process of obtaining charitable status, please be aware that no payments will be made to your organisation until you have achieved this status. Additionally, if your organisation is awarded a grant but fails to secure charitable status within 3 months of having been notified of the award, the grant will be cancelled.

Assessment Criteria

The strength of your application will be assessed based on the answers to the following questions:

- Does your project reflect the goals of the European Jewish Heritage grant programme?
- Is your organisation and its staff able to deliver the project?
- Is the planning of your project thorough, including sound objectives and evaluation measures?
- Does your proposed methodology adhere to internationally recognised standards?
- Does the project budget reflect the scope of your project and the local context?
- Have you told us how you are planning for the long-term future of the collection, e.g. cost of digital storage, online hosting etc?
- Is the impact of the project measurable and achievable?
